

The Historicity of Democracy Seminar 2020/21

Organized within the framework of the HISDEMAB international and collaborative research programme of the Leibniz-Association (ZMO-ZZF-IEG) in collaboration with IFPO and Manouba University

26 November 2020, 3 – 5 pm
Feminine deliberative practices in Ottoman Tunis: between intimacy, decision-making processes and the opinion
Dalenda Larguèche (Université de La Manouba, Tunis)

10 December 2020, 3 – 5 pm
Reflections on Historicity, Time and Historical Research
François Hartog (Directeur d'études émérite, Ecole des hautes études en sciences sociales, Paris)

28 January 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Constitutionalism in the Middle East and the question of democracy
Hedayat Heikal (Climenko Fellow and Lecturer on Law at Harvard Law School, Cambridge MA)

18 February 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Debating Representation and Democracy in early-Independent Jordan
Tariq Tell (American University of Beirut)

11 March 2021, 3 – 5 pm
The question of Power in Medieval Islam: Searching for the Roots of Deliberative processes
Abdul-Hameed Al-Kayyali (Institut français du Proche Orient, Amman)

25 March 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Contemporary Visions of Historical Deliberative processes in Egypt
Amr Elshobaki (Al Ahram Center for political & strategic studies, Cairo)

22 April 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Historicizing Democracy
Hedwig Richter (Universität der Bundeswehr, München)

6 May 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Women and Public Space in Turkey: A Gendered History of Modernity, Urban Experience and Everyday Participation
Selda Tuncer (Yüzüncü Yıl University, Van)

27 May 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Claims for humanitarian sovereignty, forms of political participation and the question of democracy in 20th century Egypt
Esther Möller (Leibniz Institut für Europäische Geschichte, Mainz)

10 June 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Anti-colonial Movements in the Middle East and the question of democracy
Rashid Khalidi (Columbia University, New-York)

24 June 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Tribal assemblies (Jamâ'a) in Morocco: Structures and Functioning
Rahel Boubrik (Centre des Etudes et des Recherches Sahariennes, Rabat)

8 July 2021, 3 – 5 pm
Theoretical Reflections on Social Movements: contestation of liberal democracies and laboratories of democratic practices
Holger Nehring (University of Sterling)

Registration for the open and free videoconference sessions:
HISDEMAB@gmail.com

